Rejected By A Whisker

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (UPI) — The department store Santa Claus beckoned to the 7-year-old girl to come forward, but the little girl stopped just out of his reach.

"If it's just the same with you," she said, "please don't kiss me. Last year you left whiskers all over my face."

Local Students At King Hold Top Offices

BRISTOL, Tenn. — Three Kingsport students at King College in Bristol are holding significant offices in campus organizations this fall.

Miss Laura Cloud of 1303 E. Center St. is a member of the student government as a representative from the junior class. Miss Cloud is also a member of the staff of the annual, and is majoring in biology.

Darwin Lee Compton of 1420 Miller St. has been elected president of the freshman class. Compton is a 1958 graduate of Dobyns-Bennett High School.

Lowell Strong of Route 5, Kingsport, is vice president of the junior class. He is also corresponding secretary of the Phi Kappa Phi Literary Society this semester, and a member of the Freshman Adjustment Committee of the student government. He is majoring in business and economics.

New Facsimile Network Opened

NEW YORK (UPI) — Western Union opened Tuesday the first public facsimile communication network, linking New York, Washington, Chicago, San Francisco and Los Angeles.

The speedy electronic reproduction system, called "Wirefax," reduces letters, drawings, graphs, charts, and advertising layouts to electronic impulses for inter-city transmission. The message is created on paper at the receiving station and delivered to the recipient like a telegram.

Sometimes a high card can be a liability instead of an asset. That case it behooves you to get rid of it at the first opportunity.

West chose a diamond overall instead of a double with the idea of bidding spades later on. North's one bid was correct and when East went to four diamonds South doubled to show diamond strength. This bid effectively stopped further bidding by East and West and also caused North to go to four hearts only.

South won the diamond lead with the ace, ruffed a diamond, led a trump to his own hand and ruffed another diamond. Next he drew East's last trump and led a club. East took the ten and led the king which South ruffed.

Now South led a spade to his ace and East had that queen of spades but not for long. It wasn't going to do him any good in his hand and he dropped it under the ace.

Now West made two spade tricks and set the hand but if East had ruffed on to that queen he would have been thrown in with it and forced to give South a ruff and discard and his contract.

Central Heights HDC Holds Meet

What do you do now?

A—Bid seven spades. Strangely enough your partner's denial of holding a king has encouraged you because it has increased the chance that he holds either a six-card spade suit or the spade queen. Even if he hasn't you still have a play for the grand slam.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You have opened the bidding with one spade and your partner has responded two no-trump. You hold:

Let's Explore Your Mind

By SYLVANUS M. DUVAL, Ph.D. and EVELYN M. DUVAL, Ph.D.

1. Helping others usually wins their gratitude? True False

True False. For instance, one of our readers tells us that she put her brother through college and helped support his family for several years. Far from being grateful, when his sister was in trouble he refused to assist her or even pay her back what he owed. It was a total stranger to whom she owed nothing who came forward with help. If you help others, do so because you want to, not to make them grateful.

2. Does military service discourage young marriages? Yes No

No, it does not. On the contrary when young men expect to have to do their stint in the military services, more young couples get married than when the threat of their separation is not present. Periods of war are characterized by more marriages at earlier ages than is found in peace times when men are not going into military service. One of the reasons for so many teenage marriages today is that so many young people want to "get things settled" while they can. "What Teen-Agers Should Know About Life and Love," will help to settle things in the right way. Get your copy by sending 20c and a stamped, return envelope to "Let's Explore Your Mind," in care of this newspaper.

3. Our most important emotional problem is fear? True False

False, says Dr. David Abrahamson, noted psychiatrist. Far more serious because it is so contagious is boredom. This, he says, results from a lack of inner personal development. We are not really bored with others, or with our world, but with ourselves. It is not life that is empty. It is we who have emptied ourselves of life. Sophistication and an attitude of contempt toward others and life in general is, he feels, just an act to cover up our lack of inner resources.

CAN YOU INSURE A LASTING MARRIAGE? Are marital quarrels necessary? Should every couple live in a budget? Get all the answers in the booklet, "Facing the Facts of Married Life," which you can obtain by sending 20c and a stamped, return envelope to "Let's Explore Your Mind," in care of this paper.
